YANKEE PRISONERS.

GOLDSBORO, June 1.—Thirteen abolitionists, prisoners captured by our scouts below Kinston, on Saturday, were brought to this place by the Atlantic railroad this morning.

FROM VICKSBURG.

JACKSON, June 1.—Grant demanded the surrender of Vicksburg on Thursday last, and proposed granting three days for consideration.

Gen. Pemberton replied that fifteen minutes was sufficient time for him—that he would die in his trenches first.

The Federal troops are demoralized and they refused to renew the attack.

On Saturday the gunboats were firing hot shot.

The Federal loss is estimated at from 25 to 30,000, including Gens. Kerr, Lay, Burbridge and Gonar, and one other, name not known.

Port Hudson is invested.

FROM TENNESSEE.

SHELBYVILLE, June 1.—All is quiet in front.

A dispatch published in the Nashville papers reads as follows:

"VICKSBURG—Saturday.—Grant has drove the rebels back to their last entrenchments.

"The Federal loss is severe.

"Twenty thousand of the army heretofore occupying Jackson (?) had reinforced Grant.

"On Saturday evening the enemy (?) were throwing shells from their mortars, but we had captured the batteries above and below Vicksburg.

"On Sunday Grant telegraphed Lincoln satisfactory details which were suppressed for fear they may prove useful to the enemy.

MURFREESBORO', May 28.—It is reported that the rebel force, 53,000 strong, has fallen back from their entire line.

Note.—The above dispatch, from Nashville, bears upon its face the impress of falsehood, for Southern advices of Saturday date indicate an entirely different state of things.—Ed. BULLETIN.

FROM THE UNITED STATES.

KRICHMOND, June 1.—Northern dates to the 29th have been received here.

The Chicago Times has a special dispatch, dated 27th, from Vicksburg, and also dates up to Saturday, nine o'clock at night. They say that there was no fighting to day, and that the troops are resting from yesterday's assault.

Our repulse was complete on all sides of the rebel lines, but no discouragement need be entertained of our final success. We are entrenching and building rifle pits.

The cavalry have been sent towards Canton to ascertain the whereabouts of Johnston's forces.

The loss yesterday was about one thousand.

LATER.—The Times has a special from Memphis, 27th, which says that our forces were repulsed on Friday at Vicksburg; but another steamer from the vicinity of Vicksburg on Monday, arrived to-day, and reports that Grant has captured every rebel redoubt. The fighting was desperate. The rebels rolled shells down steep hills, exploding among the Federals, and creating a fearful havoc. The same dispatch adds that the fighting was going on furiously when the steamer left.

A special dispatch to the New York Times, dated Washington 28th, midday, says that there has been nothing later received from Vicksburg, and that it begins to be talked in official circles that the siege may last two weeks.

In Friday's attack it was very sanguinary, but that the national loss was very heavy. The rebels fought with great coolness and desperation, reserving their fire until the Federals came within murderous range.

The rebels, however, were driven back by main force into their last line of entrencheds.

CAIRO, May 28.—The fighting on Friday was desperate. Grant charged the fortifications and took some rebels who rallied and retook them after an obstinate hand to hand fight.

The Federal loss is 5,000.

The rebels used hand Grenade, when the Federals attempted to storm the works.

It is reported that two corps of Banks army had reached Washington.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—By an arrival from Fernambuco, dates of the 3d have been received.

It is reported that great destruction of Federal vessels has been wrought by the Alabama and the Florida.

Among those destroyed are the India, Louise Hatch, Nora, Charles Hill, and bark Henrietta, Lafayette, Kate, Coro, and schooner King Fisher. Two of the ships were loaded with tea and a valuable cargo otherwise.

The Herald's special Washington correspondent telegraphs on the 28th:

Lee's army is in motion—the trains are moving towards Culpepper, followed by heavy columns of troops.

Lee has issued an address to the rebel army forewarning a raid into Maryland.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE CHARLESTON MERCURY A POLITICAL, CRITICAL, AND LITERARY NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY.

The Mercury gives daily reports of the Marchionate, State, and National news, and of Charleston commerce in the leading ports of the world. The Weekly Press Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" is well known, and intelligence from Telegraph and the earliest news of Europe is given. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times), and regular Correspondents in New York, Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, and other principal cities. Foreign Letters and weekly letters on hand in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position in the literary ranks of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive. Attention is paid to all matters of general interest, especially those in reference to the Planting and Agricultural interest, and to the current news of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in the paper which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the Mercury consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States; a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government; the right of States' Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE:
CAMP 20TH REGT., N. C. T.;
Kinston, May 26th, 1863.

Editor Catherine Journal.

We give our room in your valuable paper to give a true statement of the recent engagement at Gum Swamp, on the Dover road, nine miles below Kinston.

Thursday, the 21st, our advance pickets reported one regiment of the enemy on this side of Core creek. Late in the evening, they were in five miles of Gum

Swamp, and, on the 22d, at daylight,

they fired on our pickets in front of the breastworks. Six companies of our regiment, Col. Faison's, were soon in position, and ready for action; the remaining compagnies were thrown out on the right and left as skirmishers, except Company I,

which was to defend another crossing one half mile above. About eight o'clock, a.

m., a large line of the enemy's skirmishers

moved up in front and commenced firing.

They kept it up some two hours without any other advance. About 11 a.m. the enemy had completely surrounded our breastworks. They had succeeded in procuring a guide who carried them round

three miles on our right, by way of a sand-ridge, entirely in the woods. In the meantime, the 25th regiment, Col. Rutledge, had come down to reinforce our regiment,

though he had halted some distance in the rear. The enemy had formed a line of battle in our rear and in front of the 25th;

he had also formed another line in rear of the 25th; the front line fired into the 25th,

in their rear, and made a charge; then the skirmishers on the other side fired and advanced, which placed our six companies in a critical condition.

Col. Faison ordered those six companies to cut their way out, which most of them

did, though some were wounded and fell into the hands of the enemy. They captured

148 of our regiment, and some ten belonging to Capt. Starr's battery. They took in all 170 prisoners, 25 horses, one piece of artillery, belonging to Capt. Starr, two ordinance wagons and two ambulances. Among the prisoners taken was Lieut. Whitmore, of Capt. Starr's battery, Lieuts. Thornton

and McDonald, Co. B; and Lieut. Ray,

Co. D, 56th regiment. Lieut. Ray was wounded in the neck, and is supposed to have died. We have a number of wounded that are not prisoners, though I have not ascertained how many yet.

Reinforcements were sent down on the evening of the 22d, and drove them rapidly on the other side of Core creek. They burned the bridge over the creek, and fired

the woods for three miles on the other side to cover their retreat. On the 23d we persued them to Bachelor's creek, eight miles from Newbern; there a hot skirmish took place between the 15th regiment N. C. T.

and the enemy, but they soon left, as much as to say they would not fight outside of their strong position around Newbern.

On the 24th, Gen. Hill thought it necessary to fall back to his former position.

All is perfectly quiet in front to-day.

The Yankees will have to study another trial before they come again.

Respectfully,

LIEUT. WALKER.

YANKEE PRISONERS.

The conduct of some of the women—for surely, they are not respectable Southern ladies—was met and greeted with bouquets and the hand of Yankee robbers and murderers captured by Forrest, while passing through Augusta as prisoners of war, is receiving proper rebuke from the Georgia soldiers upon the instant field, as well as the history of the battle of the Seven Pines, and the subsequent reports of the conduct of some of the men—
